BRYAN RUSSELL FOR LEGISLATURE IS OUT WITH FINE PLATFORM

Favors Cheaper School Books, Building of Homes, Encouragement of Agricultural and Industrial Enterprises—Safe and Sound.

Bryan Russell, candidate for the Legislature from Hancock county, has a constructive platform that should appeal to the voters, advocating principles that are safe and sound, and for this reason The Echo gives space to such measures he advocates and will espouse, if elected.

On the subject of cheaper school books, he says: "I am strongly in favor of, and will support, if elected, legislation for the protection of the people against the exorbitant prices of school books. The education of its citizens is a proper and legitimate public and governmental function. The whole body of the people are interested in the education of a child as well as its parents. I believe that the State Government should, itself, print the school books, and furnish them at cost prices to the parents of all educable children.

"I am in favor of, and shall vote for, if elected, adequate support of the common schools."

"I believe that one of the greatest hindrances to the progress, growth and prosperity of this county is the fact that it has within its borders approximately thirty thousand acres of vacant lands, called 'Lieu Lands.' These lands belonging to the inhabitants of sixteen sections of various counties over the state, granted to them for school purposes; from which this county receives no revenue because of their exemption from taxation. The taxes which these lands must be borne by the remaining lands of the county and this county is put to the expense of building and maintaining roads through them. These lands cannot be sold because of statutory, and perhaps constitutional, inhibition. They have been leased from time to time and have been practically denuded of all timber, and the revenue therefrom paid over to their beneficial owners, so that the only other revenue to be derived from these lands, is that which will be derived from the sale thereof.

"They are not now bringing, and will not bring in, any revenue of any consequence to their owner until sold, and it is unfair and unjust for the people of this county to have to bear the burden of building and maintaining roads through lands from which they receive no revenue, and be forced to bear the proportionate increase in taxes on the remainder of the lands of the county caused by these lands being exempt."

"I favor the encouragement of home building and home owning. In connection with my views relative to the disposition of the 'Lieu Lands' in this county, I believe that the laws providing for their sale should provide that they be sold in small tracts, of not more than 160 acres, to one person. This would prevent land sharks from securing and holding these lands, and give the young men of this county a home, and an opportunity to secure a home site, and result in the development of this vast tract of vacant barren lands."

Public Highways. "I am in favor of constructing, extending and maintaining a uniform and efficient system of highways, constructed of the best available material, consistent with reasonable county and state economy; to be constructed and maintained, for the most part, by taxes levied upon those who use the roads. This is a fair and just method of raising revenue for road purposes, and although a few cents may be added to the prices of gasoline and oil, this addition is used in traveling over hard surface roads, in comparison to that used in traveling the same distance over the ordinary dirt roads."

Encouragement of Agricultural Development and Industrial Enterprises. "I shall, if elected, favor all legislative enactments that will encourage the development of our natural resources; and the establishment of industrial enterprises within our state, and particularly within this county."

"The lands of this county are fast being stripped of their timber—lands that are now assessed as timbered lands. In consequence thereof, there will be a deficit in our revenue, and our over-burdened, improved lands will have to be taxed more heavily to make up the deficit. We need a large, progressive, population, progressive means of vision and means. We need industries to furnish employment, to develop our natural resources, and help us bear the burdens of government. No where on earth are there any finer locations for paper mills than in Hancock county. The best of natural advantages exist here, and the pulp wood supply is here, or easily available. The same natural advantages exist in favor of paper plants and paper mills that Florida possesses in the production of orange juice."

TO BORE FOR OIL IN HANCOCK

Hines Lumber Co. Wishes to Interest Owners of Land in This Section.

OF INTEREST TO HANCOCK COUNTY

Reliability and Dependability of Projectors Solid as Rock of Gibraltar.

Appearing in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo a full page advertisement carries the information the Edward Hines Lumber company, postoffice address, Lumberton, Miss., are desirous of interesting owners of land contiguous to theirs for the purpose of leasing and drilling for oil. After some two months or more of patient negotiations the Edward Hines Lumber company, through investigation of a number of contracts in various states, decided to contract with the Dixie Oil company, as they are beyond question of financial ability and in addition they have the facilities to systematically and scientifically investigate. In fact, one of the clauses in the Edward Hines Co.'s contract provides that within a year they will spend a minimum of $250,000 on their lands in this investigation, free of any costs.

Should any oil be discovered, there will of course, be a wild scramble and the only thought in offering our friends and neighbors the chance to come in under our contract was that as this is a thoroughly responsible company, and that the Hines company will be doing a neighborly act.

IN-BY-THE-SEA BUILDING VAST HOTEL ADDITION

Famous Winter Resort on Bay St. Louis Adding Twenty-Eight Rooms—In Addition to Other Improvements—Work Advancing.

The Inn-By-the-Sea, at Henderson Point, is making an extensive addition to its already large plant for the accommodation of guests the year round in the erection of two buildings on the ground, one a garage and servants' quarters which is practically completed and which is located parallel with the L. & N. railroad to the north side of the practice golf course, and the other a three-story building just to the south of the main building at the Inn, facing Bay St. Louis. Work on this latest addition began in middle of May and the work is going on well, the walls of the building being up. This building will have 28 bedrooms, an attractive living room and reading room, and connected with the two original buildings with a corridor arrangement similar to that which connects the first two buildings. It will be of a stucco construction as is the rest of the development.

A feature of the new addition is the sun-bathing which is arranged for on the roof, where absolute privacy may be had by the guests, through partitions, and so that the sun may be basked in during the day. Last year many of the guests at this popular hotel spent many hours on the beach basking in the sun and the hotel arranged in this new building to supply every convenience for the healthful enjoyment of the southern sun.

Shells and Seed Oysters Planted.

Chief Oyster Inspector Louis Stachling of the Mississippi Oyster Commission, has completed the job of planting shells and seed oysters upon the reefs of the Mississippi commission, making a total of approximately 80,000 barrels of shells and oysters, which will aid in replenishing the reefs sufficient to start the oyster business again. He has been busy with a force of boats and men for several months.

MCDONALD PRESIDES ROTE CLUB

Chairman of Good Fellowship Committee Presents Evening of Pleasure.

AS OTHERS SEE US CLEVER SCHEME

Pres. Evans Returns From Vacation—Leads Rotarians Well.

Rotarians had a splendid meeting and supper Wednesday evening, with a better attendance. It is noted better attendance than heretofore seems to be the rule rather than the exception.

C. C. McDonald, chairman of the Good Fellowship Committee, presided. That committee had the program in charge and functioned to the satisfaction and pleasure of the assembly. An amusing and interesting get-up was the distribution of a sheet of paper to every one member. On this particular slip the name of a member was written and "the other fellow" was asked to write thereon what he thought of the subject whose name was on the particular sheet allotted. "As Others See Us" seemed a happy subject.

Some wrote in prose, in verse and what not. One member wrote his in French and another wrote in some thought of the subject whose name was on the verses and prose "pomes" were clever and provoked no end of amusement. The best of the number will appear in the forthcoming number of the Propeller, official weekly bulletin of the club. This, of course, to the extent space will permit.

C. C. McDonald was generally complimented on the program of the evening, and the next date for his committee to function will be looked forward to. Next Wednesday evening will be an open date for the Rotarians to make an impromptu or elaborate program might fill in the open space.

Every Rotarian doubly welcomes back President "Slim" Evans, following his two-weeks vacation.

LOCAL C. OF C. URGES L. & N. TO TAKE ACTION

In Matter of Discontinuing Monday Negro Excursions, Operated by Private Parties For Profit—Bay St. Louis Not Prepared.

Calling attention to the fact "The City of Bay St. Louis is not prepared to care for outings of this kind," and that "there is not sufficient bathing facilities and no sanitary conveniences," the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce has addressed a letter to the Louisville & Nashville R. R. company, at New Orleans, asking that the negro excursions run every Monday from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis be discontinued.

Hundreds of negroes, among the number many of whom are far from desirable, invade Bay St. Louis every Monday, patronizing a series of excursions run by private parties for personal profit. Many arrests are made every week for disorderly and disgraceful conduct, and instances are carried from New Orleans, in some cases, it is reported.

Secretary Bose has replied to the letter from the Bay C. of C. and says that while there are one or more such trips arranged for, they will endeavor to make the company withdraw all future such arrangements, as it is the policy to offend no one or community, regardless of whatever business in dollars and cents it might mean.

The Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for its initiative in the matter. The excursions, in a great measure, are objectionable and detrimental, and in instances, offensive to the common decency of the community. Our own colored population also object.

John T. McDonald Captures Contract.

At a called meeting held Wednesday evening at Pass Christian for the purpose of receiving bids for repairs to the new City Hall, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen awarded the contract to John T. McDonald, Sr., of that city, his bid being the lowest received. Mr. McDonald is one of the oldest builders and contractors on the Coast, and has erected a large number of substantial structures at many places, including no small number in Bay St. Louis. He will start work on repairing the damage done to the new city hall by fire some two weeks ago, as soon as possible to assemble the necessary material, and a good job can be expected.

KILN WILL CELEBRATE JULY 4TH

Management Athletic Association to Celebrate National Holiday.

SENATOR MARSHALL PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Public Speaking—Two Ball Games and Dancing at Palace Theater.

Management of the Kiln Athletic association plan for a big day at Kiln on the fourth of July at Lott Park. An all-day and political rally picnic, beginning at 9:30 in the morning and lasting until 5:30 in the afternoon. Senator Carl Marshall, of Bay St. Louis, will make the opening address at 9:30 a.m. Speaking by different candidates and prominent men of county and district will continue until about noon.

All office-seekers from county and district, also few from state, have been invited and practically all have agreed to be there. Former Governor Theo. Bilbo has been tendered a special invitation. Norton Hanes, head of the Kiln baseball club, is in charge of the celebration, and is preparing to take care of the largest crowd ever assembled in Hancock county. Prof. S. P. Powell, superintendent of the Kiln high school, will introduce all speakers. This new will be welcomed by all who intend to be present, as the ability of the popular educator in this particular capacity is widely known.

Refreshments of all kinds, and plate lunches will be served on the grounds throughout the day. Mrs. G. R. Burke, president of the Kiln Parent-Teacher association and one of the greatest community workers of that vicinity, will have the eats in charge, which assures only the best available in this department.

Musical entertainment will be furnished all during the day by Buddie Pettit's Melody Jazz Band of Bogalusa, a very popular and dependable band from the lumber city. The second half of the celebration will be a double-header ball game, first game starting about one in the afternoon. The first game will be between the Kiln Lumberjacks and the Peach Harvesters from Picaune. The next contest will find the Lumberjacks pitted against the strong Hamilton Bros. team of the Gulfport City league, who are just fresh from a 3-2 victory over Pascagoula. That night the celebration will be completed with a dance at the Palace theater, beginning at 8 and to continue until midnight.

The management expects an overflow crowd, and have not left a stone unturned in their effort to make it a gala day, and one of the biggest celebrations of its kind in South Mississippi.

On account of the lack of shade trees in the vicinity of the ball games, the management has had the crowd spread about to protect the crowd from the hot July sun.

Meet me there—all is in readiness for the biggest day in the history of Hancock County.

The following men have been invited to address the people: Gov. Bilbo, Wm. Colmer, Bidwell Adams, Carl Marshall, Bryan Russell, T. E. Keller, Luther Maples, Prof. Everett, Ilaus Jones, Wm. (Bill) Fleming and C. Greer Moore.

Program For the Day. 9:30 A. M.—Public Speaking. Carl Marshall will make the opening address. 12:00 Noon—Dinner on grounds. 1:15 P. M.—First ball game; Picaune vs. Kiln. 3:30 P. M.—Second ball game; Hamilton Bros. vs. Kiln. 8:00 P. M.—Dance at Palace theater.

Catholic Festival, July 2-3, Promised to Be Greatest Show Ever Exhibited Here

Bay St. Louis is going to witness the very biggest thing in the festival line that it has ever known. It will be of such proportions that a stop-over visitor will quickly ask the question, "Where's Lindbergh?" The workers are a very busy lot. They have called together every inventive atom in their souls and are determined to put one over on any aggregation of church workers that ever got together. It won't be just an ordinary fair. It's to be what old P. P. Barnum said: "Greatest show on earth."

The chairman of several committees positively refuse to "spill the beans" by telling of their new stunts. Their cry is "Wait and see; we'll hand you more than you're looking for on July 2nd and 3rd."

Everything is rapidly lining up into shape for the big show. The ladies are going to even put on a style show, lasting back over a hundred years (or weeks). The old fashioned circelone will vie with the Mc-Hi of today in doing the heart-qual to the young Jella.

Get straightened out for it—it's going over BIG!

BUILDING WAVELAND ICE PLANT

Bay Ice and Bottling Works Actively Proceeding in Establishing Branch.

TO BE LOCATED OPPOSITE DEPOT

R. J. Ladner, General Manager, Hopes to Be Ready During Middle of July.

The Bay Ice & Bottling Works, owners of Bay St. Louis ice plant, are proceeding rapidly in establishing their sub-plant in Waveland. In fact, The Echo is informed the company plans to have the new plant ready and open for business by the middle of July, if not then, positively for the first of August.

The company has purchased the Roberts lot on Waveland avenue, opposite Waveland railroad depot, and the contract for moving the building on the land and also for constructing the new building has already been given.

Machinery for the sub-plant was recently ordered. R. J. Ladner, general manager of the company, is hopeful for the early completion of the plant and is doing everything possible to rush it. This will be of convenience to residents of Waveland, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore and vicinity, as well as the home of the company, Bay St. Louis, and will mean earlier and quicker delivery. It is for this purpose the sub-plant is to be built—in order to better serve the population of that section of the Coast and county. In addition with the sale of ice there will also be a storage service offered, and in more ways than one the public will be served to their advantage.

MISSISSIPPI COAST POINT OF GENERAL INTEREST TO MANY

A Brief Survey of Different Points Made by "Way Down South" Magazine—Different Subdivisions Denote Trend of Improvements.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast, which started on a development two years ago that made Florida jealous, is building up fast at the end closest to New Orleans. This is shown by the number of excellent subdivisions on the hither side of the Bay of St. Louis. It is due to two things: First, the desire of Orleansians to get a place on the Gulf Coast while the getting is good; second, the desire of middle western investors to find places where they will be a short jump from America's most interesting city.

Clermont Harbor, one of the newer subdivisions, is the creation of Felix Kunz, a man of vision. It is located on Canal street, vividly suggests its convenience. It has a beautiful bathing beach, is near Bayou Cadet, well-known fishing grounds, and is heavily timbered. Improvements have been put in that make this a beauty spot.

Waveland Highlands, and Highland Park are a few miles beyond. Both are offerings of the Waveland Development company. Waveland Highlands lies on the Old Spanish Trail. The tract is 110 square acres. It has been laid out into spacious boulevards. It is 25 feet above sea level. Highland Park, somewhat smaller in area, adjoins Waveland Heights. Development is on a similar basis.

Nicholson Heights, the subdivision of Frank O. Labit, is beautified by oak trees, centuries old, and towering pines. It is on the Old Spanish Trail, three and a half miles from Bay St. Louis, and is intersected by Nicholson avenue. There are about 3,200 building sites in the subdivision. The contract for building the first ten bungalows has been given.

At Pascagoula, I. B. Rennyson and Vic Passers are behind the Ren-Pas movement. There are 21 miles if this property, most of it beach frontage. This section has not yet been developed, but extensive plans are in the making. Pascagoula is the furthest point on the Coast from New Orleans, but the beauty, the fishing, the hunting and the other sports make the trip worth the trouble.

The Coast is rounding into shape rapidly. Last winter, the first season with the new hotels, temples, and such, a success that new hotels and additions to old are planned. The fact that the movement from the north was so heavy in the face of the unsettled due to the upset in Florida, encourages developers to think that the crowds will be a great deal heavier this winter, now that the drawbacks have been removed. The summer season is, of course, always full, for the Coast is the principal playgrounds of New Orleans and the interior country of this part of the South. The public improvements on which the Coast has spent millions are about completed, and more are contemplated.

CO. SHORT COURSE CLOSES

County Girls' Demonstration Club Held Three-Day Course Here.

ATTENDANCE SHOWS MARKED INCREASE

Specialists From Over State Lecture on Home Science And Home Arts.

The annual three-day short course of Hancock county demonstration work for club girls and women came to a close Friday afternoon, after three of the successful sessions of the kind yet held. The attendance this year almost half as much as last year. There were fifty-three girls from nine clubs pushing to the total enrollment to sixty. The three days were devoted to an intensive course in home science and the arts, held at St. Joseph Academy, under the supervision of the Home Demonstration agent, Miss Mamie O'Dom, and specialists from A. & M. College, M. S. C. W. and Gulf Park College.

Members used the dormitories at the Academy and the class rooms for the work of each day. At night there was also some diversion, on one evening a delightful truck ride was an outstanding feature. The social side of the visit and stay in Bay St. Louis was not lost sight of by the members, who gave lavish and appreciative attention. All work, it is conceded, would make Jack a very dull boy. Partial program herewith will give an insight as to the scope and character of the splendid work carried out under the home demonstration department of Hancock county.

RAILROADS HAVE COMPETITION.

We have seen it pointed out before that the automobiles in this country are taking considerable business from the railroads. This is a matter of such common knowledge that one sometimes wonders what the railroad people were doing when the automobiles developed. In our opinion the business of the railroads is to furnish transportation. That is and always has been its field. When the leading officials of the nation's railways sit idly by and permit a new development to almost cripple their service it is apparent that somewhere there was a lack of brains.

The management of the majority of railroads, in the past, has proceeded along the theory that a monopoly needed no innovation. Today the monopoly is gone, and a new competitor looms as airplanes develop. What then can the railroads hope to do?

In the first place, they can offer comfort and convenience that neither automobile or airplane can equal. They can guarantee regularly of performance that is probably unequalled. They can, if they are wise, reduce fares and encourage people to take long trips by railroad. They can make freight rates more equitable and encourage the transportation of much material which now is unable to be profitably shipped.

If you think this is moonshine ask the neighbor what his recent long trip through the country cost him, considering that he took four passengers. You will be surprised at the low cost. The railroads reply that no account has been taken of the overhead investment, and that is right in a sense, but any family possessing an automobile, and most of them nowadays own a car of some description, in planning a trip will figure railway expense against car expenses. The family figures from its standpoint that the car is paid for and that money can be saved, and that is why the railroads are hauling fewer passengers than heretofore.

"GOOD OLD DAYS."

The millions who saw, or struggled to see, Lindbergh last week, witnessed the beginning of a new era. The boy hero breakfasted in Washington and hopped off to attend a noon reception in New York, where his every movement and gesture and smile were recorded by radio observers and announced to millions of people more. Meanwhile, escorting airplanes circled overhead and dropped roses down toward the flyer.

The next generation is going to speak of the generation before the airplane as "the good old days."

There never were any "good old days." In the "good old days" one hundred and twenty-five years ago wives were expected to die off at forty, and at fifty most men were broken down. The majority of working mankind was engaged in the back-breaking labor that is now done for us by railroads, machinery, automobiles and, more recently, electricity in the home. Central water, central light and central gas systems have relieved us from endless drudgery.

The physical hardships of the "good old days" were only exceeded by their intellectual poverty, banished for the benefit of us by the modern newspaper, magazine, book, movie, graphophone, juke box, the "good old days of 1927" will seem primitive and stupid and unendurable to our grandchildren.

Those who have welcomed Lindbergh have perhaps never heard of the famous 1900-1901 balloon race and missed the opportunity of seeing the balloonists in the air. The balloon race was a contest between two balloons, one of which was built by a Frenchman and the other by an American. The Frenchman's balloon was built of paper and the American's of silk. The Frenchman's balloon was built of paper and the American's of silk. The Frenchman's balloon was built of paper and the American's of silk.

OPPORTUNITY IN THE AIR.

Col. Lindbergh, who has behaved, it seems to us, with exceptional splendor in the midst of many occasions which would have caused men of less sense to make monkeys out of themselves, sees a great future for aviation in this country. Quite properly he senses immediately the natural advantages which came to us through the size of our country and the homogeneity of our people.

The airplane mail service is, it seems to us, an ideal opportunity for the government to organize an aerial force which will be useful in time of peace and the basis of securing an adequately trained flying personnel in time of war. The government should inaugurate air mail all over this nation, regardless of whether the mail immediately pays the entire cost of operation or not. The cost of the service should be charged up to preparedness, because it is a vital need that our national defense have available thousands of trained pilots in time of war.

We hope to live to see the day when mail will be delivered anywhere in the United States, from any other point, within a period of twenty-four hours. For first class mail this is a practical matter for early development. For newspapers and magazines the day is some distance off, but nevertheless coming and bound to arrive. The development of a lighter engine or the perfection of the wireless transmission of power, will make aerial navigation the accepted method of communications.

CHARACTERISTIC OF A LOCAL INSTITUTION.

Actual work has started in the construction of the new bank building at Pass Christian for the Hancock County Bank, contract for which was recently let to Geary & Oakes, of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis.

Standing out prominently as one of the more modern and handsomer structures, the new building will be located on the site corner beach front and Davis avenue, adjoining the present H. C. B. building, in the "very heart of things," a location there could be no better. And so it will be with the building—there will be none any better. Of solid and permanent construction, two story, attractive and ultra-modern there will be every reason for approval and public commendation, and a contribution of enterprise and substantial improvement not only to that particular section, but to the entire Gulf Coast.

This solidity and permanency is characteristic of the Hancock County Bank, as is its policy of enterprise expanding over this section, with now four banks to its credit. Permanency and dependability is always uppermost and the spirit to extend its usefulness over a broader territory and enlarge scope must not be lost sight of.

Geary & Oakes have started their work and it is planned to have this beautiful and substantial shop building of the Gulf Coast finished before the final rose of summer will have dropped its last petal and lost its fragrance.

BOOSTS BAY ST. LOUIS PRODUCTS.

The Sea Coast Echo has time and again urged its readers to carefully support the merchants of Bay St. Louis. This can be done only by purchasing goods in Bay St. Louis in preference to other commercial stations. Trade here and help our merchants develop their businesses. They are entitled to a fair profit for serving the community and should be helped by all those who expect help from them for local problems and charities.

There is one thing to be said also about others who live here. Our citizens generally should not indulge in the foolish envy of each other. Do not get the idea into your head that because a man is your neighbor he is no better than anybody else and not quite as good as a citizen from some other town.

Of course, local citizens hear of the faults of local people, and very often lose sight of the good traits. This may be unfortunate but it is human nature. It is time, however, for every citizen of Bay St. Louis to look for the best side of the lives of their fellow citizens. All of us have good points and bad ones. No perfect people live. Let's encourage the good that we see anywhere and quit now the vicious habit of looking for the bad.

LIFE NOT WORTH LIVING.

Civilization in this country has not yet reached the apex, if you want to know what we think. In the great city of New York, where millions turned out to greet a justly popular aviator, an aged couple went to their deaths by gas, which they voluntarily turned on rather than to face a life dependent upon the charity of friends.

Rather than leave the house in which they lived this aged man and woman, companions over a long period of life, decided to travel the great unknown journey, as they had lived, together. Terrified at the idea of going to the home for the poor they went to another home, somewhere, far removed.

It doesn't matter what we may think of their act. They were old. They were foolish, perhaps, but nevertheless, life to them had lost its zest and only death seemed to offer a chance for happiness. They took the road that pleased them most—certainly not a pleasant verdict upon the civilization which let them drift into such a state.

"TELL 'EM, THEN SELL 'EM."

"If you don't tell 'em, you can't sell 'em." That was the advice yesterday at Omaha, Nebraska, to the National Retail Grocers' Association of Fred W. Anderson, whose merchandise store at Cozad, Neb., a town of 1,200, does an annual business of $300,000.

"Every grocery man should spend at least 3 percent of his gross receipts during 1927 for advertising," he said. "It is so powerful that it can change my breakfast, my automobile or my place of living."

Mr. Anderson said the success of his business depended entirely upon carefully planned advertising campaigns.

This is the most outstanding example of "advertising pay" known the country over. Imagine a town of 1,200 with a merchant doing an annual business of $300,000.00.

While we of the Gulf Coast are enjoying cool weather and sea breezes New Yorkers entered upon their second day of summer Thursday with three persons overcome by the heat and humidity. The temperature was 83.

The Prince of Wales was 33 years old Thursday—the world's most eligible bachelor, eluding doing do-wagers. The Prince is a fine fellow, democratic and popular the world over. Who will be the next queen of England is almost as interesting as who will be Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Sumner is responsible for much. Ezra Meeker, an old trail blazer of the Pacific northwest, wants to be a passenger on one of the airplanes in the New York-Boston air derby in September. He wrote the National Air Derby Association at Spokane, Wash., and offered to pay the expenses of the trip.

Flood Relief Session.
Lesson For Uncle Sam.
Your Important Cells.
Women Natural Teachers.
BY ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1927)

The President will call a special session of Congress for October to take up the Mississippi flood disaster and the prevention question. The sooner prevention is discussed and arranged the better. The American Congress and people have a great faculty for forgetting—even a two billion-dollar calamity and 700,000 people being made homeless.

Twice in succession, American fliers have crossed the Atlantic at one "hop," Lindbergh flying to Paris, Chamberlain, with Levine, almost to Berlin.

What will military and naval gentlemen in peace, ready to take of machine guns in war, would be the best investment this rich nation could make.

Out of two attempts to fly across the ocean by American fliers, both succeeded.

What would be the probable percentage of success if five thousand foreign aviators, with full government backing and unlimited expenditure of money, should fly the other way on a hostile errand?

Americans should take to heart the lesson that Lindbergh and Chamberlain have taught us and get ready to keep hostile fliers away from this continent.

Five or ten thousand first-class planes, carrying mail parcels and passengers in peace, ready to take of machine guns in war, would be the best investment this rich nation could make.

Golf, according to accident insurance companies, comes third among "dangerous sports." Victims of 451 golf accidents collected insurance last year. Twelve for "cuts with sharp instruments." The instruments were bottles, on the "19th hole." However, for one man injured at golf, one hundred die for lack of exercise, to play golf.

A German scientist says your heart is less important than the billions of cells that make up your body. The heart is important, of course, but the cells, eating, drinking, digesting, each living a separate life, are more important than the heart, even in blood circulation.

The human body is like a nation. Brain and heart are the government. The cells are the citizens, and most important.

Dr. Mendelssohn, of Berlin University, says, "The secret of life is the ability of living cells to effect change of matter and absorb and eject fluids. This change of fluids seems to be the principal cause of blood circulation. The secret of making life worth while is the ability of the living brain to accept and absorb new ideas. That is the principal cause of human progress."

Students at Oxford worry because women are to teach there. "Isis," read by the Oxford young gentlemen, says that will eventually lead to a sex war and is "a social revolution of the utmost significance."

Women are natural teachers; teaching has been their business from the beginning; teaching children, teaching husbands.

Hypatia, a better mathematician and philosopher than her father, Theon, was one of the greatest teachers of the ancient world. She was an early Christian monk tore her from her chariot, as she was going to her school, and murdered her, more than 1,500 years ago.

The college boy or adult citizen lacking respect for women or confidence in their power, judgment and goodness, pays a poor compliment to his own mother.

UNCLE SAM TO GIVE PROHIBITION FANATICS SHOULDER IN FUTURE

Enforcement of Volstead Law in Future to Be Placed on Strictly Business Basis—Sympathizer System to Be Heaped on Scrap Pile.

A press telegram this week from Washington says the dry law enforcement personnel is to be shaken up from administrator to undercover agent. Practical men, with records of achievement, will be retained, and it is said "fanatics with nothing but zeal to recommend them" will be dropped.

The reorganization movement is already on. The appointment of W. B. Robinson, who got his training in the intelligence unit of the bureau of internal revenue, as chief of the prohibition investigators indicates the beginning of a new policy.

It is understood the prohibition bureau is to be "an open shop" and men and women of ability, character and energy will be employed to enforce the Volstead act, whether they are "dry" or "wet." In other words, it is asserted the fact that a good enforcement officer does not subscribe to the Anti-Saloon League doctrine will not militate against him. The bureau is to be a place where men and women of ability, character and energy will be employed to enforce the Volstead act, whether they are "dry" or "wet."

From this time, according to those on the inside here, the prohibition bureau is to be run like all other government law enforcement units, without noise or billboard campaigns.

A drastic investigation of charges and reports about former administrations of various phases of the Volstead act is to be supported when Congress meets, so that the new regime may begin with a clean slate. New York Democrat, Missouri, will be asked to resume his inquiry into the activities of certain branches of the movement during recent years.

"Bay St. Louis, Miss., June 23, 1927.
"Dear Sportsman—A fishing time is with us now and hunting time not far off. We think it about time to begin to blast the short cut east of Catfish Bayou. The distance is 285 feet. This blast will save a pull of three miles.

An agent of the Powder company said 500 feet blast would cost $106. This gentleman would do the blasting.

"We are having Mr. Moreau publish this so our sportsmen will have their donations ready when our man calls to collect. Your name and amount of donation will be published in this paper, also date which blasting will be done.

"The undersigned merits every fisherman's and hunter's support in this move.

"Hoping you will all contribute.

For Fewer Criminals.

"Logtown, Miss., June 20, 1927.

Editor Sea Coast Echo.

"Dear Sir—The primary election soon be here and I think every voter in the state should consider well the man he votes for and more especially those who have the laws to execute.

"Our nation, state and county is too lax in the execution of the laws that we have on our statute books. This is one of the greatest reasons we have for the many crimes that are committed at this day and time, because the criminal knows that he can do these things and if convicted will serve a few days in the county jail or a few years in the penitentiary and be pardoned for a crime, he should serve a life time.

"I believe we should ask the man the question, 'Are you going to execute the law if elected?' In doing so we would have a better state and fewer criminals.

"Respectfully,
"C. W. FOUNTAIN."

Detracting in the Extreme.

"Memphis, Tenn., June 17, 1927.

"Editor Sea Coast Echo—My recollection of the sight on entering Bay St. Louis from some of its easterly suburbs across the Bay is anything but a vision of loveliness. The numerous filthy piers leading out to a flimsy bathhouse on stilts were detracting in the extreme. There's nothing so enjoyable as a nice beach for bathing parties. Proper facilities and a bit of advertising should bring crowds out from New Orleans on Sundays and holidays and make the town a mecca for annual picnics and such things, not only from New Orleans, but from the interior of Mississippi now that good roads are plentiful and automobile transportation is at hand.

"Yours for the old town,
"A FORMER RESIDENT."

Beware of Los Angeles!

"Los Angeles, Calif., June 5, 1927.

"Editor Sea Coast Echo—You are getting out a very delightful paper. You have improved it greatly within the past year. You have got the idea now, but even so, it is a little new and then. One fault I find is that you publish a report that some meeting was postponed on account of the rain, or a small attendance was present because of the inclement weather, etc., etc.—Don't ever let on that there is such a thing as bad weather.

"In a late issue I noted that Mr. Lloyd Guerra, of Los Angeles, had bought a lot in a new subdivision there and in another column mention was made of another resident of Los Angeles looking to the Gulf Coast for investment. If the San Francisco papers could get hold of that dope they would advise you to beware lest Los Angeles was getting ready to annex you!

"Respectfully,
"A SUBSCRIBER."

SLIDELL PUTS IT OVER BIG WITH NEW BRIDGE CELEBRATION

Estimated Fifteen Thousand Persons Participated in Event—Mayor of Biloxi Present—Two States Join in Episcopal Celebration.

Beneath the swaying pines of Louisiana's ozone belt, fifteen thousand people joined Slidell Saturday in marking the construction of the Pontchartrain toll bridge which will provide New Orleans with an eastern highway outlet and aid in building up a new industrial area in this section of the state.

With mayors of Biloxi, Mandeville, Clivington and other cities of Louisiana and Mississippi, and thousands of visitors from New Orleans and all nearby sections of the two states joining them, Slidell citizens celebrated the construction of the outlet that will make it a wealthy "gateway" to New Orleans.

"This celebration marks an epoch in the gigantic strides Louisiana is making," former Governor J. Y. Sanders declared as he concluded the speaking program with his voice being carried for long distances by means of loud speakers placed beneath the pines south of Slidell where the celebration was held.

"It marks a beginning of the end of New Orleans' isolation from the mainland and when the Hammond-New Orleans highway will have been built and this monumental bridge is completed six months hence, our great city will have shaken off its obstacle in its path of development."

TO INDIVIDUAL OWNERS OF LANDS IN PEARL RIVER, HANCOCK, HARRISON AND STONE COUNTIES.

After some two months negotiations we have entered into a contract with the Dixie Oil Company, which is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, whereby the Dixie Oil Company is to thoroughly and systematically test our land for oil, gas and any other minerals.

If you wish to take advantage of our contract by entering into a contract direct with the Dixie Oil Company, at no expense to yourself, and exactly the same contract we have, your lands will be tested carefully and after testing, if anything is found, you will receive the same compensation or pay for what is found, that we receive on our lands this free of any commission or compensation to us in any way. If nothing is found on your lands, they will be released free of cost to you, or free of any obligations. Of course this applies only to land reasonably contiguous to ours.

If you desire to avail yourself of this opportunity, write us a letter giving your land description and copies of the contract will be mailed you immediately. Of course, there is no question of the responsibility of the Dixie Oil Company or of the Standard Oil Company.

Plan Tallest Building.

Plans for the 110-story Larkin Tower to be erected on West Forty-Second street between Eighth and Ninth avenues, New York, have been approved as to zoning and general construction and work on the demolition of the old structure now occupying the site is expected to begin in the early fall. The tower will be the tallest building ever constructed, 1,200 feet above street level, or 287 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower.

DR. WILLIAM CAIN MAKES STATEMENT TO BEAT VOTERS

States His Qualifications and Plans. If Elected to Office of Local Supervisor—Has No Criticism of Opponents.

Dr. Wm. Cain, candidate for Supervisor from Seat 5, has made a public statement to the voters of this section, which he addresses to the electorate of Hancock county, and follows:

"I want to call your attention to my candidacy. I have been a resident of this section for many years. I have seen you personally before you go to your voting precinct on August 9th, 1927.

"I have called Hancock county my home since I was 5 years of age. Although I have traveled extensively in the four corners of the globe, staying away as long as four years at a time, I always returned to my home in this county. Some of you will remember how I spent my boyhood days in Waveland and the age of 11, to the old Hickory place on the beach.

"I am a four-year graduate of the United States College of Veterinary Surgeons, Washington, D. C. I have been a property owner here for the last twenty years and fully know the conditions on Hancock county and can safely say I know every corner of the county. I have never believed in stock law, as I know full well that it is the only means of living some of the country people have. I have no criticisms to make of my opponents and will not attempt to conduct my campaign upon their merits or demerits, but strictly upon my own qualifications. If I am elected as your Supervisor, I shall strive for: First, to work for the interest of the people at all times. Second, to let no political affiliations interfere with my duty to the people and to stand up for rigidity and justice. Third, I shall work to keep down taxes as low as is commensurate with the progress of our county, and to be at all times for the betterment of my country and to no one individually and will perform my duty without fear or favor.

"Believing that the people who know me and have had dealings with me will understand this, I am sure they will think me qualified and efficient. I earnestly solicit your vote and influence."

As a result of the conference held here Monday

Hoover and Relief Rehabilitation forces of the state, plans were readjusted to meet the new conditions arising from the second floor invasion of the delta. The workers were inspired by this conference to face this second disaster that has not served to dampen the courage of the workers engaged in restoring normal conditions. Another and very important result of this conference is the optimism inspired by Mr. Hoover's assurance to the representatives of the state in regard to the attitude of the Federal government to the control of the Mississippi in the future.

It was stated at this meeting that allotment of supplies will be made to last until July 1st, by which time it is believed that the waters will have receded. Another meeting of these forces will be held next week, Mr. Hoover making a trip to Washington in the meantime.

William Roberts, a student of Sunflower Consolidated school and Assistant Scout Master of the school troop of Boy Scouts, was recommended for the Scout honor medal by Pete Williams, of Clarksdale, at the meeting of the Court of Honor Monday for saving the life of Frank Dorris, who had gone down to the third time after his boat overturned in a swirling current. Roberts dived for him, swam to a near-by over-hanging tree and kept him above water until help came. Only 73 of these medals have been awarded in the United States, two of them to Coahoma boys, Virgil Cook and Joe Price, for saving two boys from drowning.

The gubernatorial campaign continues with slightly increased fervor, matching the weather to some extent in its variations. Tomorrow, the heat will be at its height, but never dropping below Mississippi's normal political pulse. Mr. Anderson has announced that he will speak in Jackson on the night of the 20th, and great interest attaches to the occasion, as the other two candidates have spoken here and residents of the city and surrounding territory have hoped not to be left out of his speaking tour.

Miss Nora Reedy, of Hattiesburg, has been appointed by the Business and Professional Women's club of this place to attend, as delegate, the annual convention of the national organization held this year in Oakland, Cal., on July 17th. The Jackson club will be represented by the president, Mrs. H. L. Morrison, who is also state president; Miss Alma Allen and two of the club's charter members, Mrs. Susie Hubbard and Miss Allie May Millsaps. Miss Sarah Fore, who will represent the Canton club, will accompany the Jackson party, which leaves here on the 8th of July.

A. L. Schaffer, director of Red Cross Relief and Rehabilitation, with his assistant, J. J. Smith, and his accountant, Berne Moore, were installed Thursday in the headquarters of the Mississippi State Board of Development in this city, for the convenience of being in closer touch with L. O. Crosby, who is at once the director of Relief and Rehabilitation for Mississippi, and president of the State Board of Development, the staff of which organization, under the direction of Mr. Crosby, has been mobilized for duty whenever and wherever needed until Rehabilitation activities have been completed, and the financial and resources, financial and otherwise, placed at the disposal of organizations and individuals needing them.

Misses Gladia Branscomb, of Montgomery county, and Nonie Talbot, of Lauderdale county, are representing Mississippi among the thirty-eight states having delegations of four members each—two boys and two girls—at the National Four-H Club camp, which opened Thursday on the grounds of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., and lasts until June 23rd. The 152 boys and girls attending this camp represent a club membership of 386,000 in all parts of the country.

The State golf finals played yesterday in this city left Jason and Greenville sharing honors. Mrs. John W. Armstrong, of this city, winning the woman's title, and Chas. W. Kittelman, of Greenville, the men's.

Dr. F. J. Underwood, state health officer, returned this afternoon from Gulfport, where he attended the annual convention of the State Dental Association and discussed the correlation of the department's mouth hygiene program in the schools with the corrective and preventive work of dentists. Miss Gladys Eyrich, director of the Bureau of Mouth Hygiene, who left today for the University of Chicago to take a course in general nutrition as related to sound teeth, also attended the convention and discussed the work that has been done in the schools, the state and plans for future work in co-operation with the dentists.

In a definite and clear-cut statement issued this afternoon, O. S. Rees, husband of one of the women murdered here two weeks ago and brother of the other, urged his friends and other citizens of Jackson and the state not to permit an outbreak of mob violence when the negro, Walter Burley, who confessed the crime, is brought here Monday for trial.

This plea of Mr. Rees will be published in dailies of the state and surrounding territory Sunday morning, and there is reason to hope that coming from the person most grievously injured by the crime, it will be given the attention it deserves.

CITY ECHOES.

Special Notice to Advertisers

Beginning next week The Sea Coast Echo will close its forms Thursday morning and appear regularly every week thereafter on Fridays. Subscribers over the county should receive their copy of The Echo by Friday morning.

This will prove of advantage to the advertiser wishing to get the week-end trade.

CHAS. G. MOREAU, Publisher.

—Keep the rain from your porch flooring and screens by using Lovejoy's eave trough. It's cheap now.

—Don't miss Sophronia's Wedding on June 30th at the K. C. Hall at 8 o'clock.

—Be sure and come to the K. C. Hall Thursday, June 30th, and laugh until we bid you good-night.

—This is your last warning of the big wedding at the K. C. Hall on Thursday, June 30, at 8 o'clock. You'll regret it, if it is missed.

—The K. C. Hall doors will be waiting for your entrance on Thursday, June 30th, at 8 o'clock, as you must see Sophronia's Wedding.

—I am sure you have lawn mowers and scissors that need sharpening. I have a grinding machine that does the work. See Lovejoy Tining and Plumbing, Main and Second Sts., next to Vainir's Store.

—Masters Ernest A. Leonhard and James Leonhard are out from New Orleans and are spending part of their vacation with their aunt, Mrs. Ernest J. Leonhard, as the family home on the north beach front.

—Mrs. W. W. Stockstill is a daily visitor to New Orleans for the summer, recently registering at Tulane University for the summer normal course. Mrs. Stockstill is principal of the R. W. Taylor school, in Ward one.

—Mrs. D. Daugimont, residing in Waveland Terrace, will leave July 4th for Los Angeles, Calif., to visit at the home of a daughter, residing at Glendale, a suburban city, and will be away until the fall season.

—Miss Edna Faust and Miss Jane Ann Sherman and C. J. Sherman, Jr., are visiting at the home of their relative, Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, and will remain for an indefinite period before returning to their home in New Orleans.

—Are the faucets in kitchen and bath room in good order? Any leaky pipes? How about waste pipes from sink and bath—does the waste water run off freely?—Lovejoy Tining and Plumbing, Main and Second Sts., next to Vainir's Store.

—Mr. George A. Rea, president of the Merchants Bank & Trust Company, attended the annual convention of the Mississippi Bankers at Edgewater Park this week. From the newspaper reports we note where Mr. Rea was active in the deliberations.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wolbrette and interesting family motored over from New Orleans Wednesday and are domiciled at the family beach home for the summer. Mrs. Forstner, Mrs. Wolbrette's mother, made the journey by train and will remain until the late summer.

—Rapid headway is noted in the construction of the new convent building adjoining St. Rose delina school, in Nicasie avenue, Joseph Labat, builder. The building is of frame, two stories and will be quite roomy, and will meet the increased usefulness of the convent and school.

—Mr. Leo W. Seal, executive cashier of the Hancock County Bank, registered at the Edgewater Gulf this week during the annual convention of the State Bankers and took an active part in the printed program. Mr. Seal is known by practically every banker in the state and mingled with the many guests.

—Employees of the Standard Oil company, at New Orleans, came out from New Orleans this morning at 9 o'clock, and are spending the day in recreational pastime. They are making their headquarters at the Bay-Waveland Yacht club. Many automobiles, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, met the guests.

—Miss Lillian Gray, young daughter of County Attorney and Mrs. L. J. Gray returned home Thursday from a trip to New Orleans, where she spent the week-end.

Damborino-Heitzmann.

Mr. John L. Damborino and Miss Margaret Heitzmann, both of Bay St. Louis, were quickly married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, before the high altar at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor, officiating. The attendants were Mr. Roger Heitzmann and Miss Fanny Marquez.

Following the wedding the bride couple left on train No. 1 for New Orleans, where they were registered at DeSoto hotel for a few days, and are at their attractive home in Kellar avenue, having gone to housekeeping.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Heitzmann, residing in Hancock street, educated at St. Joseph's Academy, and a young lady of accomplishment and charming personality.

The groom is connected with the bookkeeping and job printing department of The Sea Coast Echo, a life resident of Bay St. Louis, and a pupil of St. Stanislaus college. A young man of exemplary qualities, steady and practical there should be a happy and useful life for the young couple who have ventured out into the future. They have many well-wishing friends.

Bay St. Louis Subdivision (formerly St. Charles) is attracting considerable attention. Two attractive homes are finished and others will be started immediately. Mr. McCull, representative, reports the outlook most encouraging. Location of this particular subdivision is attractive in more ways than one.

C. Greer Moore and Capt. C. B. Fisher motored to and from Brookhaven Thursday, to which point they were attracted by a business possibility. The trip made in one day was reported most pleasant, good roads and fine weather added to the success of the journey.

The Hancock-Pearl River counties rally yesterday at Caesar, on the county line, was well attended. Messrs. Bryan Russell, candidate for legislature; Claude Monti and E. Ed. Keller, candidates respectively for sheriff, and Judge W. H. Starr, candidate for re-election, were among the candidates from Bay St. Louis present. The Echo appreciates a personal invitation to be present.

A message to local friends, received today from Atlantic City, conveys the intelligence that Mrs. Horace Avery, who left Bay St. Louis recently, was seriously ill and had to be conveyed to the home of a son, residing in Pennsylvania. The message stated her condition was critical. The many friends here, as well as elsewhere, will hope for the patient's early and permanent recovery.

Twenty-five boy scouts from Ponchatoula, La., arrived in Bay St. Louis during the early part of the week and are camping with Mr. Shaw as scoutmaster, and Wade H. Sutton, cashier of the Ponchatoula Bank & Trust company, as sponsor. The boys report having a fine time and hope to return to Bay St. Louis next year. Mr. Leo W. Seal, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce, were instrumental in getting the troop to Bay St. Louis.

Dr. James A. Evans returned home Wednesday afternoon, after spending a vacation of two weeks in Tennessee, accompanying Mrs. Evans and the children to Dresden, where they will spend the greater part of the summer visiting under the parental roof. President of the local Rotary club, Dr. Evans was warmly welcomed on the occasion of his return Wednesday evening.

Macey Dinkins, private secretary to the late Governor H. L. Whitfield, spent Thursday in Bay St. Louis in the interest of his candidacy for state auditor. Mr. Dinkins was a welcome caller on The Echo and stated he was "The man who knows the work and can do it," and that he will appreciate the voter's help and influence. Mr. Dinkins was a former newspaperman and is well and favorably known over the state.

Mr. Edwin Roth and family, of New Orleans, motored over to Bay St. Louis a few days since and are domiciled at Mr. Roth's father's home, 245 Citron street. Mr. Roth expresses himself as amazed at the various improvements noted in and around the city. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, also served with the United States Marines as a First Lieutenant in the World war and acquainted in Europe with the late Clement Bontemps.

The Echo wishes to commend the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, for the stand it has taken in communicating with the L. & N. R. R. authorities, asking negro excursions from New Orleans every Monday be discontinued. Not only is the city now prepared to receive outtings of this kind, the letter to the railroad stated, and that there is not sufficient bathing facilities and no sanitary conveniences, but the class of excursionists brought out is far from desirable and by no means conducive to the name and fame of Bay St. Louis as a summer resort.

these visions are a reality (as I firmly believe they soon will be), our laborer will receive a just reward for their toil; the farmer will grow rich as he should be, and prosperity shall reign for all time. I trust that I may live to see the realization of this dream, and that I may be given the opportunity to have some part, as your representative in the hastening of this day when this dream shall be realized.

"I invite your inspection and investigation of my private life, and as to my ability and honesty of purpose and sense of obligation to those who trust me, I refer you to the banks, lawyers and business men of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and if you believe, after due consideration, that my election will promote the best interest of the whole people of this county, I shall be proud to receive your trust, and if elected, I will devote such talent and skill as I may have to the conservation and promotion of the best interest of the people of this county and state."

"ROUGH HOUSE ROSIE."

"Rough House Rosie" is the master attraction at the A. & G. theater for Sunday and Monday nights. Everybody is fond of Clara Bow and her nimble manner and acting. This attraction is brand new and comes direct from the Saenger theater at New Orleans.

—Mr. and Mrs. John N. Stewart, of New Orleans, have opened their summer villa for the season on the South Bay St. Louis beach front and later will be joined by other members of the immediate family. Mrs. Stewart is one of the most active and popular members of the Bay St. Louis summer colony and her visits are always anticipated.
